Allowable Subject Matter

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Claims 1-20 are allowable over the prior art of record because none of the prior art whether taken singularly or in combination, especially when these limitations are considered within the specific combination claimed, to teach: a semiconductor memory device comprising: a plurality of second/third holding circuits, among others as claimed in independent claims 1, 12, individually holding data output from first holding circuits after being delayed by time that the read address gains with respect to burst address; select circuits, among others as claimed in independent claim 4, for selecting one of first and second banks after being delayed by time that the read address gains with respect to the burst address when select is changed from one of the first and second banks to other thereof; selector circuit, among others as claimed in independent claim 9, for selecting redundancy memory after being delayed by time that the read address gains with respect to the burst address when the comparator outputs the coincidence signal; a third output circuit, among others as claimed in independent claim 16, connected to first to fourth bus lines, and alternately outputting even and odd data from one of the first and second bus lines and third and fourth bus lines corresponding to selected one of the first and second banks.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
